LOCAL AND GENERAL

Frank Barringham was a business visitor to Lethbridge on Monday.

Annie Kinnear, of Calgary, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Archie Anderson.

Mrs. Walter S. Purvis is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, at Vancouver.

Miss Megan Jones spent Easter holidays at Drumheller.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lees and children have returned to Coleman to reside.

It is reported that E. L. Dodge, government road foreman, will move to Greenwood to take a position with a mining company.

NOW JUDGE MATHESON

J. D. (Joe) Matheson, of honest, open countenance and pleasing personality, is best known in this locality as the Conservative candidate in the Federal election of 1930, losing to George G. Coot, U.F.A. member.

At a public meeting in the opera house, prior to the election, an elector asked him what the cure would be for unemployment. "Why, employment," smoothly answered Mr. Matheson. And the audience accepted the reply without a murmur.

A well-known mining manager, present at the meeting, asked Mr. Matheson what Mr. Bennett intended to do for the coal industry of Alberta. Joe was quite ready with the reply that he would put into effect a National Fuel Policy, but this answer did not satisfy his questioner as easily as the party who asked the question on employment. Pressed further as to particulars of the National Fuel Policy, Joe began to flounder under a barrage of questions so that the fuel policy appeared to be more of a fanciful fable than something of substantial form.

However, he carried the party banner for many years, and quite naturally his reward is a life position as a district court judge in Peace River district. Political friends and opponents alike will wish him well, for he had many friends irrespective of political opinions. Coleman will always remember him as the man who gave the smooth answer which turned away wrath.

Neil McKinnon, a Coleman resident for many years, who went east two years ago, has returned.

"Journey's End" Staged in Creditable Manner

Trench Life of 1914-18 Vividly
Portrayed by Coleman War
Veterans

The most pretentious and best staged amateur production on record here might well be said of "Journey's End" played in the community hall on Monday and Tuesday nights.

Thrilling war experiences were re-enacted which not only brought poignant memories to those who experienced the dark days of the war, but to those who suffered bereavement. It was really like living again those years when international conflict was turning the western front into a shambles and thousands of men of all countries were "going west" daily.

Scenic effects, heightened by an intricate system of lighting, gave a vivid impression of a dug-out in the front line, where Captain Stanhope, M.C., is the skipper of the company officers whose living quarters permit just sufficient space to eat and sleep. The leading characters, taken by Sydney C. Short as Stanhope, and Maurice W. Cooke as Lieut. Osborne, affectionately dubbed "Uncle" by his brother officers, were splendid, while R. F. Barnes as Lieut. Trotter, acted his part so naturally that he required no camouflage to earn the praise of the audience.

Harry Garner as Mason, the faithful batman who saw that his officers were served their meals on time, even though flavored with onions or bacon or what-not of previous meals, gave the characteristic touch familiar to ex-service men, as he tried to make things seem like 'home in the front line.

The Western Economic Outlook

Writing in "Agricultural and Industrial Progress in Canada," Mr. John F. Sweeting, Industrial Commissioner, Western Lines, Canadian Pacific Railway, declares that confidence in the outlook for 1934 business is the dominant feature of the Western situation. Signs are not lacking in many parts of Canada that we are slowly emerging from the depression of the past four years. Improvement appears to be more noticeable in the Eastern parts of Canada, where some acceleration is apparent in the manufacturing industries. In the West where we depend almost entirely on agriculture, recovery will necessarily be more slow in coming. As a matter of fact we cannot hope for any great degree of prosperity whilst agriculture languishes. A good crop, fair prices for our wheat, and not lacking in many products are the needful factors. Mr. Sweeting says that improvement in trade, together with the realization that an upturn is now noticeable, has brought back the more satisfactory feeling that it is possible to consider that a period of trade and industrial expansion is, to a moderate degree, justified. Anticipated during the last few months, it is not difficult to venture the statement that every effort is being put forth to increase the volume of business throughout the West by methods that are most likely to react favourably.

It is, of course, too early to state what programme of new development is likely, though enquiries towards the end of last year appeared to indicate that some industrial expansion of note might take place during the present year, and that there may be more money available for building operations of all classes. In this relation, there should certainly be a distinct improvement over 1933 if necessary requirements are to be met in the erection of houses and commercial buildings, quite apart from any factory expansion. Any programme of moderate size would soon improve the home lumber market, which has been nearly at a standstill for some time, though the export business has been showing important increases.

The mining industry is looking for a steady improvement, and activities in relation to development would show a confident outlook in this respect. In British Columbia, Manitoba and western Ontario work continues on an increasingly larger scale, which will bring some important properties into production during the present year.

The Western agricultural situation is a matter of constant study of ways and means to bring it to a more stabilized level but, in the mean while, the Western agriculturist is bent on carrying on with ever-improving methods in the production of grain and livestock, having in view that ultimately his returns will justify confidence in Western Canada and its products. This is considered to be a reasonable attitude that will eventually realize greater value for farm products, more especially as the major effort is towards a higher standard that will meet export market requirements. This work is already showing results that further the belief that the correct course is being followed.

In Alberta and to some extent in Saskatchewan and Manitoba, drilling for oil and gas is to be continued. The Alberta programme is to be of considerable size, according to present indications, while more southern fields getting the larger share of the proposed operations.

The sodium sulphate industry of Saskatchewan increased its production during 1933, and it is anticipated other deposits will be brought into operation during the present year. The clay areas of southern Saskatchewan continue to cause interest, awaiting further development at such time that capital and growing markets are available.

The fishing industry of the inland lakes of the three Prairie Provinces is being fully investigated in order that the marketing of the products of these lakes may possibly be put on a better footing, and efforts are being made to expand the marketable areas for whitefish, as well as for other classes of fish that are available in large quantities from the fresh water lakes of the West.

Device Beats Stop-Watch

Claimed To Clock Athletes Within Hundredth of Second

A device whereby, it is claimed, it will be possible to clock athletes within one hundredth of a second has been invented by Dr. E. L. Harrington, head of the department of physics at the University of Saskatchewan. It applies the principle of the electric clock.

The new timer is said to be 20 times more accurate than a stop-watch. It calls for a 12-toothed wheel, placed between magnets attached to Sackat's electric power system. The alternating current of the system provides 120 impulses per second and the wheel would revolve 10 times a second. Each impulse moving. Dr. Harrington's device contains a counter like a speedometer, attached to the wheel, which automatically records the time between two pressures on a clutch. It can be read within a tenth of a revolution.

Report Finding Of

King Solomon's Mine

Rhodesian Prospector Refuses To Give Exact Location

Finding of King Solomon's mine, search for which has caused the death of thousands has been reported by a prospector in Broken Hill, Northern Rhodesia. He declares that he discovered it while following a wounded buck, but refuses to give the exact location except that it is in the centre of a mine concession. For more than 300 years men have been searching for the legendary mine. In Solomon's day it was said to be so fabulously rich in gold that silver became of little value in his court. The search has gradually narrowed down to an area of about 250,000 square miles. Arabs tortured many natives in an effort to extract information about it and many Portuguese tramped hundreds of miles in search of it.

"How did she lose that 32 lbs. of fat?" is what you will be asking. Let her tell you herself:—

"About 18 months ago I weighed 178 lbs.—which I can assure you annoyed me very much. Everything seemed a worry to me, especially new clothes. Nothing would fit me comfortably, and walking was unbearable. I was advised by a friend to try Kruschen Salts, and I am very glad I did so. During the first ten months I lost 28 lbs. of fat. Now, for the last 6 months my weight has been 146 lbs., and I feel much better to health. I have all my weight tickets to substantiate my statements."—(Mrs. M. P. Wales Takes Canadian Steel

First Order Will Likely Be Followed By Others

Canada for the first time in her industrial history, the Guardian says, is supplying South Wales with her steel in competition with the imports from Belgium, Germany, France and Sweden.

The steamer Grey County recently arrived at Newport with 3,600 tons of Canadian steel billets and further cargoes of this product are expected.

"Although there is a heavy duty on foreign steel," the paper says, "South Wales still imports about 18,000 tons per week, which is used for conversion into tinplates. Canada recently gave an order for 1,000,000 boxes of Welsh tinplates and an endeavor is being made to create a reciprocal trade between South Wales and the Dominions."

Increased Demand For Rubber

Modern Motor Cars Using More Than Ever Before

The yearly output of from 30 to 40 rubber trees is required to supply tires, tubes and parts for each modern car, according to American engineers. In 1925 the average car used about 3 lbs. of rubber parts in addition to the rubber in tires and tubes, while 1933 model carry from 20 lbs. to 40 lbs. of rubber. More than 90 per cent. of modern cars use at least 30 lbs. to 40 lbs. of rubber made up into 11 or 12 classes of parts, ranging from spark plug caps and door bumpers to torque spring insulators and engine mountings.

Fishermen Perish In Storm

Eight Hundred Lives Lost When Storm Lashes Chinese Coast

Eight hundred fishermen were drowned in China, when a storm off the coast of Kwangtung province sank 300 fishing junks.

A Chinese customs cruiser rushed to the scene and picked up a number of survivors, the reports said. Kwantung province, lashed by a storm which was reported to have destroyed a sailing fleet, is the eastern-most sea coast province of China. In it are located the cities of Canton and Hong Kong, and toward the northern border is the seaport of Swatow.

Agricultural Notes

Many Items Of Interest To The Western Farmer

The haricot or French bean is a native of South America, and was seen by Columbus in Cuba.

Spinach was a comparatively late arrival in Europe from Persia via the Moorish invasion of Spain.

Sugar is being made out of wood in a large-scale factory finished this year at Mannheim, Germany. At present the sugar is fed to livestock.

It was not until after the civil war in the U.S. that the tomato reached the northern states, although well-known in the south.

It took 300 years to popularize the potato in Europe, and only dire necessity forced the country cottager to include it among his vegetables.

The number of producing maple trees on Eastern Canadian farms is estimated at over 70,000,000, of which 24,000,000 will probably be tapped.

The cabbage in ancient Greece and Rome was regarded as a cure-all, and its power in dissipating the fumes of wine was not the least of its virtues.

A new strain of wheat which was claimed to resist extreme cold was evolved in Sweden but it was found to be susceptible to a disease to which the older types of wheat were resistant.

Judging by the course of raw sugar prices, it seems likely that sugar beet growers in Canada will receive returns per ton in 1934 at least equal to those of last fall.—The Agricultural Situation Bulletin.

Insect pests, notably the corn borer, infested the tonnage of sweet corn available for canning in Canada, but wherever this pest may reduce production in one area, the decrease may be replaced by increased plantings elsewhere.

The ultimate practical object in nutritional investigations of apple trees, as carried out at the Dominion experimental farms, is to discover methods of controlling the growth processes which determine the amount and quality of the fruit produced.

As a result of investigations at the Dominion Experimental Station at Fredericton, N.S., it has become quite apparent that the external appearance of the apple is not a reliable indication of maturity, and the necessity of obtaining some simple reliable test for maturity is emphasized.

The largest per centage increases in Canadian canning and vegetable sales last year occurred in the following products: Cherries, 802; spaghetti, 681; evaporated apples, 587; asparagus, 218.4; peaches, 165; pickles, 97; pears, 35.6; tomatoes and tomato products, 30; and corn, 28.9 per cent.

The actual demonstrations showing that satisfactory apple tree growth can be secured under a properly managed soil system, as originally carried out at the Dominion experimental farms and stations, have resulted in the almost universal adoption of this system of orchard management.

The tomato in its original shape was unsavoury and watery. After its arrival in Europe in the sixteenth century from South America, its use was confined to Spain, Portugal, and Provence. Even as late as 1870 the tomato was rare in Paris. Last year Canada exported 1,359,725 cases, tomatoes and tomato products constituting the largest of Canada's canneries packs.

For the first 11 weeks of this year and last year (figures for the latter within brackets), the numbers of livestock shipped from Western to Eastern Canada were: Hogs, 57,995 (78,234); cattle, 18,554 (5,821); calves 148 (19); and sheep, 25,932 (21,480).

European Travel Costs Lower

Reduced Railway Fares As Well As Hotel Rates

Contrary to a wide-spread impression; European travel costs this year, despite foreign exchange rates, are actually lower than they were in the peak travel year of 1926, according to the Cunard & Anchor-Donaldson Lines.

This fact is revealed in the inclusive tour costs of the big travel agencies and the reduced fares on railways, automobiles and hotels. Private automobiles can be hired at a much lower price, the costs being reduced by 44% in Paris and in Rome by 46%, with comparative reductions in other countries.

Hotel rates average 36% less all over Europe than they were in 1926. In Paris the reduction is 33 1/4%, in London 21%, in Nice 26%, in Genoa 66%, in Rome 50%, in Naples 60%, in Lucerne 33%, in Interlaken 40%, in Heidelberg 25%, in Cologne 35%, in Amsterdam 41%, and in Brussels 33%.

Railway fares have been lowered in many countries. In Holland, for instance, the reduction has been as much as 22%, in France 30%, in Poland 25%, in Switzerland 30%. In Paris have come down considerably: in Amsterdam, for instance, a taxi ride, regardless of the distance covered, costs you only 27c, half as much as in 1926.

Organized sight-seeing tours in Europe are considerably reduced. In Paris they are 25%, in Nice 25%, in London 14%, in Brussels 22%, in Rome 25%, and in Heidelberg 37% less than in 1926.

These reductions more than offset any unfavourable effect of high exchange operating in some countries.

To Assist Livestock Industry

Want Reports On Detrimental Practices Of Livestock Buyers

To assist him in the presentation of the information required respecting the livestock industry to be submitted by joint representation of the government of the prairie provinces, Hon. W. C. Buckle, minister of agriculture for Saskatchewan, is desirous of having farmers interested in the production and marketing of livestock, report any specific example of where the producer is not the recipient of full market value for his livestock due to detrimental trade practices or other defect in the present system of marketing livestock. All statements should be accompanied by documentary proof. Opinions are valuable when based upon facts, but without them, are useless in a case of this kind.

It is expected that joint representations from the prairie provinces will be submitted to the Parliament Committee, Ottawa, very shortly. The Livestock Associations and the Livestock Pool, have been invited to present available data to Hon. Mr. Buckle to be incorporated in a joint statement on behalf of the three prairie provinces.

War Memorial Pictures

Deplet War In Misleading Light Says Montreal Speaker

Distribution by the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire of reproductions of national war memorial pictures, some of which were said to depict war in a misleading light showing it as something grand and glorious, came in for criticism at Montreal by Brooke Claxton, vice-president of the League of Nations Society in Canada, in an address to a women's meeting.

War memorial pictures showing the Ypres Cloth hall in ruins and the devastation on the western front were excellent, Mr. Claxton said, while others should not be distributed. Canadian children should be brought up with thoughts of peace, he claimed, and not be "pictorially hoodwinked" into believing war a thing of glory.

Toys Made By Prisoners

Many Danish Convicts Continue Trade After Their Release

Convicts in Denmark, land of Hans Christian Andersen, of fairy tale fame, have been put to making toys. They are allowed to use their imagination instead of being in mass production. The toys are sold outside, and the men paid regular wages, part of which goes to the state for their keep, some to the Prisoners' Aid Society, a portion to dependents and a small amount to the prisoners, to be spent at the prison canteen. Many men are following the trade after their release.

Plan For Abundance And Not For Scarcity Says Sir Stafford Cripps

Ottawa.—A planning for abundance and not for scarcity was advocated by Sir Stafford Cripps, former solicitor-general of Great Britain and at present Labor member for East Bristol in the British House of Commons, in an address here.

The British Labor member was guest of honor and speaker at the luncheon meeting of the Canadian Club here. Seated next to him at the head table was Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, and Sir Stafford caused a smile when he said that he rose with "some trepidation" to try and advance some ideas on Socialism in view of the proximity of the prime minister.

Sir Stafford commented upon the "most remarkable picture" the world was witnessing, of farmers being paid for not producing. Such a condition, he asserted, was reminiscent of the mad hatter's tea-party in "Alice in Wonderland." His belief was that farmers should be paid for producing and that a machine for distributing what they produced should be perfected.

He informed his audience that, insofar as the economic planning of agriculture was concerned, after preliminary steps had been taken, it would be necessary to "do away with the private ownership of the means of production and to eliminate the profit-making system from agriculture."

There were, he said, difficulties in agricultural planning due to factors not under human control. No "golden rule" could be applied. It was important, however, to keep in mind the objective sought. He believed that there should be a "planning for abundance," not for scarcity.

He felt, said the British Labor member, that it was possible to plan agriculture so as to reach the objective of supplying the wants of all the people.

In so doing it might be necessary to eliminate the profit-making motive, replacing it with planned production for use. An effort designed merely to control production was not going to solve the problem of abundance.

Kitsilano Boys' Band

Western Aggregation To Make Tour Of England And The Continent

Vancouver, B.C.—Arrangements have been completed for the Kitsilano Boys' band of Vancouver to spend several weeks in England on tour this summer, with the prospect that engagements on the continent will also be filled.

The band, numbering about 45 members, will leave Vancouver on June 25 and play in Banff, Alta., Calgary, Swift Current, Sask., Moose Jaw, Sask., Winnipeg and Montreal, sailing from the latter port on July 6.

Girl Guides For Switzerland

Toronto.—Girl Guide leaders of each of the Canadian provinces have been asked to recommend a first class Guide, aged 18, to the Canadian headquarters executive committee, for the selection of Canada's representative to the international encampment at the Guide camp, Adelboden, Switzerland, next July.

Socialism And Monarchy

Montreal.—The English crown and Socialism are not incompatible, and England would be better off as a hereditary monarchy even if the country became Socialist, Sir Stafford Cripps, leader of the English Labor party, said here in an interview.

Britain Concerned About Stand Of U. S. On Armament Treaty

London.—The stand the United States would take if an attempt were made to punish a European violator of a disarmament treaty was the concern of British and League of Nations diplomats who conferred with Norman H. Davis, United States disarmament delegate.

Before Great Britain is willing to commit herself on proposals for punitive military and economic action she is interested in knowing if the United States would at least not interfere.

Fortune Awaits Disposition

Will Covering Estate Of Fur Trader Lost Many Years Ago

Port William.—A fortune reputed to amount to millions of dollars awaited disposition while apparent direct heirs in widely separated parts of Canada looked for developments.

The fortune consisted of the estate of James Hudson, accumulated 20 years ago in fur trading with the Indians in James Bay district.

Claimants to the fortune include Moses Frost, 93, of Port Arthur, and Mrs. John Peever, Vancouver. They were grandson and granddaughter respectively of the trader. The fortune is now understood to be in chancery in England.

Delay in settlement of the estate was caused because the will, written on buckskin, was lost or stolen from Mr. Frost's mother in 1867.

Suffering from a nervous complaint for some time, Sato was ill when the vessel, carrying him and other members of Japan's Davis cup team, to Europe, arrived in Singapore.

Sato disembarked, intending to return to Japan, but decided to re-embark after he had been urged to do so in telegraph messages from Japanese tennis authorities.

Pioneer Prospector Visualizes Big Development In Mineral Areas

Edmonton.—Vast new empire in the far north with a population of 100,000 within the next 20 years is predicted by D'Arcy Arden, pioneer prospector, trader and explorer, who reached Edmonton by airplane from the Great Bear Lake mineral area.

Mr. Arden was made the discovery of the new strike of pitchblende on Beaver Lodge Lake, 100 miles south of Cameron Bay, says this untried promises to be the richest yet uncovered in the entire northern mineral field.

Compromise Farmers' Debts

Manitoba Bill Designed To Assist Agriculturists

Winnipeg.—A bill to "facilitate the compromise of farmers' debts" was given second reading in the Manitoba legislature.

Introduced by Hon. W. J. Major, attorney-general, the bill is in anticipation of Dominion legislation to provide an inexpensive short cut for farmers to go into bankruptcy in order to obtain downward revision of their debts.

The Manitoba bill, if enacted, will be supplemental to expected federal legislation.

Bombay.—The "Association of Industrial Employers" has been organized here to prevent the spread of Communism. Its members are wealthy Hindus, a group that recently financed and supported M. K. Gandhi in his civil disobedience campaign.

Appeals Will Be Allowed

Clause In Manitoba's Wheat Control Bill Has Been Allowed

Winnipeg.—Premier John Bracken's emergency wheat control bill passed safely through law amendments committee of the Manitoba legislature with one significant amendment. The bill now goes into committee of the whole.

The section of the wheat bill proposing orders of the wheat control board would be above any question, review or appeal in the courts was the only clause to be altered.

On the motion of Premier Bracken it was resolved and remedied after the clause in Saskatchewan bill, providing for court action on the wheat board's decision only when a fiat has been obtained.

Dominion guarantee of a minimum price of wheat to the farmer while the world wheat agreement is in effect will be asked in a resolution to be moved in the legislature by Douglas Campbell, government member for Lakeside. It requests a guarantee of a minimum of 55¢ per bushel, basis No. 1 Northern grade, C.I.F. Liverpool, equivalent to 1.05¢ at Liverpool or 90 cents at Fort William.

Advance In Science

Dr. Torg Criticizes Present Methods Of Education

Toronto.—Defects of the rapid strides in advancement of science and criticism of the present-day educational methods were made by Dr. H. M. Torg, head of the research bureau of Canada, in an address before high school principals at the Ontario Educational Association annual convention here.

Answer to the topic of his address, "Why science is worthwhile," said Dr. Torg, was in its effect on the intellectual life of the modern world; social well-being and material progress.

One of the great social problems of to-day, he said, was unemployment but "to claim scientific effort has resulted in over-production in a world where millions of people are for the moment suffering want is merely to acknowledge progress in producing a suitable economic structure, hindered as it has been by industrial stupidity and greed and by extreme nationalistic policies on the part of statesmen, has not kept pace with growth of knowledge and with the world's needs."

Tales Of The North

Miners Get Together And Recall Incidents Of Yukon Days

Quebec.—Vivid tales of the north country and the Odysseys of the Sourdoughs who blazed the trails of the Klondike and the Yukon in the days when men lived on snowshoes and women shared a platel of beans with them in a rudely constructed hut in Canada's northern hinterland were recalled at the 35th annual meeting of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy.

Mining prospectors were at bat at the meeting. A number of symposiums on prospecting were delivered in which former pan-sifters spoke of their trials and tribulations in early struggles to eke out a living.

Hundred Hutterites Taking Up Land In Lethbridge District

North Fort, Sask.—Canada has received that 100 Hutterite settlers will shortly arrive at the border with several cars of stock and effects from Alexandria, South Dakota, to take up land in the Lethbridge district. Rev. Jacob Kleinassers is advance agent for the party and he is now in Lethbridge completing arrangements for the coming of these settlers, some of whom farmed there 15 years ago.

Irrespective of the outcome of the forthcoming Provincial General Election, Colonel Kidd will not be back in the Speaker's chair. A National Responsibility

Hon. G. M. Weir Advocates More Centralization In Educational Control

Vancouver.—Education is being recognized as a national responsibility and the British North America Act is due for amendment to meet this principle and for amendment without reference to the imperial parliament. Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir, British Columbia minister of education, told 100 delegates to the annual convention of the B.C. Teachers' Federation.

Dr. Weir declared the federal government should pay half the cost for elementary education. He also suggested there should be greater centralization in educational control and control of educational finances and predicted that within 25 years, possibly 10, the B.N.A. Act would be amended to provide for these changes.

Manitoba Beer Bill

Sale Of Beer By Case In Licensed Hotels

Winnipeg.—After three hours' debate, the bill to amend the Government Liquor Control Act to permit third dealers for the sale of beer by the case in licensed hotels was given third reading in the Manitoba legislature.

Party lines were split on the debate with Hon. W. J. Major, attorney-general, declaring widening of the beer selling facilities was necessary in the drive to eliminate bootleggers.

The vote on a motion by George Dinadale (Cons., Brandon) to delete the clause providing beer depots from other minor amendments was defeated 30-10. There was no recorded vote on third reading.

Testing Grain

Suggests Intermediate Grade For Tough Wheat

Edmonton.—Moisture content of grain, which had been the subject of an inquiry by the committee, was reported on to the agriculture committee of the legislature by A. E. Claypool, who recommended that the Canada grain board be urged to increase facilities for testing grain for moisture content and that it should fully investigate the feasibility of an intermediate grade in tough wheat and apply it if found feasible. The committee so agreed. It was pointed out that the grading and selling of grain is under federal regulation and outside the jurisdiction of the province.

France Asks For Trade In Return For Cut In Acreage

Rome.—France appeared before the wheat advisory commission in the guise of a bargaîner, but failed, for the time being at least, to obtain any bargain.

M. Davinet, leading French delegate, suggested at the session of the commission that if wheat importing countries are asked to reduce their home production of the cereal then exporters of the grain overseas should be prepared to grant trading concessions as a reciprocal gesture.

The suggestion followed closely along the lines of recent talk that France wished to use its wheat-growing resources as a weapon to secure, among other things, a wider market for its wines. It fell flat, however, when the commission decided it had no authority to deal with the proposition because it is not empowered to negotiate trade agreements.

In its report the commission will merely refer the French suggestion to the participating governments. It will not recommend it. With this decision the question passed from the conference agenda.

Delegates were asking what really lies behind the French proposal and speculating on whether France is preparing to make a change in its agricultural policy.

In common with other European importers, France has been stimulating production of home-grown wheat, forcing the pace through loans, fixed prices, market control, import quotas and milling restrictions.

Figures on display at the Fascist exhibition here show that under the influence of this country's grain production campaign the nation's yield was increased slightly more than 50 per cent.

The commission learned something about the cost of these production campaigns. It was revealed that internal prices for wheat in European countries range from $1.12 to $1.40 gold, about three times the world price in gold.

In all these countries the bread, judged from Canadian standards, is of indifferent quality.

In France, constant complaints are heard against the high cost of living. These complaints have been reflected in the country's present unrest and competent observers have expressed belief a change in the agricultural policy is not unlikely.

All the importing countries expressed sympathy towards the idea of increasing the world wheat price. British representatives let it be known that the United Kingdom looks to an increased wheat price as a means of stimulating demand for her own industrial exports.

Already, it was pointed out, Italy has found it necessary, following its wheat campaign, to make an effort to reduce wheat acreage and Germany is developing a system of sales limitations.

The commission approved a plan to use wheat in producing pork and beef instead of bread and thus help farmers obtain higher prices.

Under the scheme an international agreement to denature low-quality wheat would be recommended to the various governments for their signature.

Provincial Marketing Board

Alberta Bill To Give Effect To Dominion Marketing Act

Edmonton.—Implementing federal legislation, a bill to provide for the functioning of a provincial marketing board was introduced in the Alberta legislature by Premier J. E. Brownlee. It was given first reading.

The bill aims to give the provincial government power to bring into effect by proclamation any part of the Dominion Marketing Act.

Mass Flight To Rome

U.S. Navy May Undertake Friendly Return Visit In 1935

San Diego, Calif.—The San Diego Union says the United States navy is reported in fleet aviation circles to be planning a 15-plane mass flight from New York to Rome in the summer of 1935.

The flight would be "a friendly gesture to Italy" and "return the visit of General Italo Balbo and his squadron to the United States," the newspaper says.

Car Prices Advance

Detroit.—Rising wages and materials costs brought automobile price increases by all automotive producing units of General Motors Corporation.

World Carryover Of Wheat Will Be About Same As Last Year

Rome.—The world carryover of wheat on August 1 will be 1,100,000,000 bushels—about the same as last year—but estimates for the next crop year which starts on that date are optimistic regarding reduction of stocks and acreage.

This information was contained in a communique issued by the world wheat advisory commission after a long session devoted to reports and plans for bettering the international wheat situation by lowering supplies and encouraging consumption.

"In reviewing the prospective wheat situation," the statement declared, "the committee was impressed by the fact that the probable increase in stocks in the principal European importing countries at the beginning of August compared to the previous year will amount to between 100,000,000 and 120,000,000 bushels."

"Despite the very short North American harvest in 1933, the probable world carryover of wheat on August 1, 1934, will be approximately the same as that of August 1933, about 1,100,000,000 bushels."

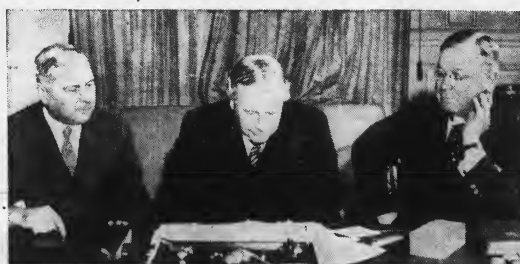

For Canada, John I. McFarland of Winnipeg, told the 35 members representing 15 nations, that:

"Following the extensive discussion concerning the necessity for a reduction in production and the dissemination of information to farmers regarding measures to restrict sales—coupled with unusually natural and economic conditions for wheat seedling—it is expected the acreage seeded in Canada this spring will be sharply reduced, as much as 15 per cent."

Canada had taken definite steps to implement the London agreement, Mr. McFarland stressed. Bills had been introduced in the three prairie provinces providing enabling legislation for restriction of the quantity of wheat each farmer may sell, the extent of such restriction to be based upon the total of the Canadian export quota.

A parallel bill had been introduced in the Dominion parliament authorizing establishment of a national wheat board whereby the national and three provincial governments will take control of the entire wheat business of the country, should this become necessary.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

The depression is "going west."

"We've a song in our hearts. Spring is here. Archie Beveridge is gardening."

"Hockey guarantors must dig down" at Macleod to the tune of $25 each. Coleman club since 1929 has finished each season with a surplus. Generous support and careful management has enabled "Canadians" to avoid passing the hat to foot deficits. Macleod met at a banquet in the Silver Grill to celebrate their losses. Coleman meets to celebrate a victory and a surplus.

Putting a code into effect to maintain fair prices is a laudable objective. If people have to be compelled to act fairly in paying wages and charging fair prices, it is a reflection on their methods of doing business which is far from creditable. "Dog eat Dog" policy brings bankruptcy and ruin, scab wages and poverty.

Derogatory reference to the relief camps is not substantiated. To meet general complaint against men wandering over the Dominion begging their way, the Federal and Provincial governments instituted relief work whereby men are provided with shelter, food and clothing, and with some employment under conditions that preserve their morale and give them five dollars a month for the effort they are making.

Clean sleeping and eating accommodation, with hot and cold showers, enables men to retain their self-respect, and though the pay may be small, it is also a fact that many men in steady jobs have very little left after the month's expenses are paid.

Unemployment relief is an expense borne by people fortunate in having work, and the majority of these are doing out a bare living. Representative citizens can ascertain by a visit to relief camps in this district, actual conditions under which they operate to relieve unemployment.

In the House of Commons, during a debate on Prohibition, a member of parliament asked: "Does the mover of the motion know that during the South African War fifty per cent of the teetotalers in a famous Scottish regiment died? You may think this an exaggeration, Mr. Speaker, but I knew the man who died."—Exchange.

Here is a story of the tall timbers that even has Forest Ranger Boulton backed up till he springs a new one: "Paul Bunyan, legendary hero of American lumber camps, could make you feel and taste words. The irrepressible Paul would follow his instructions for his hard-bitten crew of lumber-jack giants into the cold winter air, and his stentorian tones froze hard in the atmosphere with the white vapors of his husky breath. Then when spring freshets were about to start Paul's doughy crew of 'jacks' would have explicit orders for the timber drive. All they had to do was to listen to Paul's frozen words melting in the spring thaw, speaking out clearly as he had spoken them months before."

The Associated Boards of Trade of Eastern British Columbia will hold their annual 34th annual convention at Grand Forks on May 17 and 18. Secretary John R. Hunter writes that a banquet will be tendered the delegates in the Grand Forks hotel and a good time is assured. If any member of Coleman board desires to attend, he should advise H. T. Halliwell, president, or W. L. Rippon, secretary.

January coal tonnage from Alberta mines was up 74,734 tons over January of 1933, Crows' Nest area contributing 21,446 tons increase. Coke output for the entire Dominion was the highest reported since May 1930, when 200,555 tons were made. In January 1934; 194,957 tons were made. The coke manufactured at International Co. here has helped to swell the total very substantially.

In August, 1910, Clifford Draper, of Riverside, N.J., and his grandfather were driving a load of popcorn to town. The heat of the sun was so great that it popped the corn, and a strong wind blew the particles forward. Mr. Draper and his grandfather were deluged. So was the horse, who, thinking he was being buried in a blizzard, froze to death!

Connecting sailings from Canada for the three cruises are the Empress of Australia from Quebec June 21, the Duchess of Athol from Montreal July 6, and the Duchess of York from Montreal July 20.

The Duchess of Bedford and Duchess of York are already equipped with talking picture machines and the Duchess of Athol and Duchess of Richmond will have them for their first voyages this summer. The Empress of Britain and Empress of Australia have been showing talkies for some time now.

The Easter holidays, commencing March 23 and extending to April 3rd, offer an exceptional opportunity for travel. The Canadian Pacific Railway is making generous fare concessions and indications are that extensive travel programmes will be carried out by Canadians and visitors to the Dominion.

A large party of Holy Year pilgrims from the Maritime Provinces sailed from Halifax recently in the Canadian Pacific liner Montclare. On Easter Eve they will be received in audience by the Pope. They will visit London, Paris, Milan, Assisi and other cities in Europe before returning to Canada at the end of April.

It is of interest to note that the raid on which Shirriff, the author, based his play, took place at Hulluch, on Jan. 25, 1917. The sole object of it was to discover the rations that were being served out to "Jerry." Fifty men took part in the raid. Among them was Sergeant Walter Summers who since the war has become famous as a film producer at Elstree.

"It was successful, and one 'Jerry' was captured and actually brought back carrying his ration, half a loaf of black bread, in his hand. Three of our men were killed on the way back, and it was this fact which gave Shirriff the first idea for 'Journey's End'."

The regiment concerned in the raid was the 2nd Battalion of the East Surreys, commanded by Brevet Lieut. Col. C. A. Clark, D.S.O., M.C., who recalled vividly how the famous raid was organized.

ST. ALBAN'S CHURCH NOTES

Next Sunday the services will be: 11:15 a.m., morning prayer and sermon; 12:30 p.m., children's service. The Rev. A. H. Priest, B.A., western secretary of the General Board of Religious Education, Calgary, will address a meeting of all church workers on Saturday evening at 7:30. He will also preach on Sunday morning. The Guides, Brownies and Scouts will attend church on Sunday morning.

UNITED CHURCH

Sunday morning, April 15, the congregation of St. Paul's are to be favored with a visit from a former resident minister in the Crows Nest Pass in the person of Rev. W. T. Young of Trinity church, Calgary. He will preach at the morning service.

In the evening the minister will preach, taking as his sermon-subject: "Gomer—the Prodigal Wife."

The seating capacity of the church was taxed to its utmost on Friday evening last when Dr. J. W. Ogden gave his first address. Completing a week of preaching that will long linger in the minds of his hearers. The subject, which was illustrated, was: "Sigismund Goetz's great preaching picture 'Despised and Rejected.'" Dr. Ogden in his own inimitable way drew many searching lessons from this great painting.

Master Roy Taylor is staying with Mr. and Mrs. McAllister of Pincher Creek for the remainder of the school term.

The meeting held in the Palace theatre, Sunday, April 1, for the purpose of further promoting the negotiations for a general hospital in the Crows Nest Pass was poorly attended.

The meeting was presided over by Mr. Olson of Blairmore, who opened with a few remarks and introduced the first speaker of the evening, Mr. Packer.

Mr. Packer's address was brief, dealing mainly with hospitals in towns smaller than Coleman, but which could boast of greater hospitalization.

The second speaker of the evening was Harvey Murphy. His opening remarks were made in regard to the poor attendance. He spoke at some length on the existing hospital facilities in the Crows Nest Pass in comparison with other centres of the same population. He quoted the amount derived by the doctors and hospitals throughout the Pass as $100,000 per year, and compared it to some of the other districts who paid less yet had greater hospital service.

The third speaker was Mayor Knight of Blairmore, who opened with the remark that Blairmore will build a hospital regardless whether Coleman comes in or not. Mr. Knight's address was confined to quoting figures. He estimated the cost of building a modern hospital to be in the vicinity of $50,000, this amount to be spread over a period of twenty years. He also stated that Coleman having the largest population in the Pass would have a greater representation on the board of directors than the other Pass towns.

At the conclusion of the addresses the chairman asked for questions but none were asked. The meeting then adjourned.

Fashion Hint For Paris

Manchester Produces "Glass Dress" From Process Just Discovered
Manchester is teaching Paris a lesson in the arts of feminine fashion by producing the "glass dress" in which women sparkle as brilliantly as though they were wearing hundreds of tiny diamonds.

A group of chemists and engineers discovered the process, and new works at Gorton are already busy on the first orders for the glass-printed fabrics. The manager of the firm says: "Textile firms are sending us their cloth and we are printing glass and metal or silk or wool on it. The secret is in the ink."

"We have found a method by which, for example, powdered synthetic glass made into a liquid can be printed on to cotton or any other material and made so fast that if afterwards you wash, iron and boil the material, and scrub it for ten minutes with a nail brush you will not be able to remove the glass. "The possibilities of these glass-printed fabrics are wide. They can be used for evening frocks, for shoes and hats, and for stage curtains and dresses. We can print the glass on to wood or leather, paper or cardboard. We can make clothes of gold and silver."

BANANA TOAST

(Serves 6)

- 1/4 cup orange juice
- 1 teaspoon orange rind (grated)
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 to 3 bananas
- 6 slices toast

Mix orange juice, rind and sugar well and pour over bananas which have been sliced. Spread banana slices on hot buttered toast, pouring any remaining orange juice mixture over them. Put in oven or under broiler to brown toast and soften bananas. Bananas should be spread with a knife over toast when taken from the oven. Serve at once. This makes a delicious toast suitable for serving at a tea. It is an excellent breakfast dish, which children especially like. It will also serve as a simple luncheon or supper dessert for children and grown-ups.

Gardening

For Variety Add A Few New Flowers To Your Garden This Year

It is a splendid idea to add a few new flowers to the list chosen every year. Without this little departure from the straight road, a garden will soon become staid and old-fashioned. The season may not suit some old favorite or that favorite may require fresh ground in which case the actual amount of bloom begins to fall off. It is a mistake also, to base likes and dislikes on the flowers of a few years ago.

In the last decade there has been amazing improvement in almost all flowers. Many of the singles now come also in double form and again some original doubles, like the asters, can to-day be secured in beautiful singles. Sizes have been altered. Such things as the Zinnia, for instance, coming in dwarf, medium and giant size and this variation of applying to bloom as well as plants. The modern Snapdragon, is another flower which would not be able to recognize its ancestor of only a few summers back. It comes in small, intermediate and tall types, and will bloom even after the first frosts in the fall. Cosmos is rather a common flower throughout a good deal of Canada, but not the Cosmos, unfortunately, that is listed in the seed catalogue of 1934. Here is a showy plant with single flowers three to four inches in diameter and doubles almost as big. Salpiglossis should not be omitted from the well balanced flower garden. Its glorified Morning Glory-like flowers, come in rich reds, yellows and purples with splashes of gold. For bouquets, Salpiglossis along with Marigolds, of various sizes and color combinations, Scabiosa, Carnations, Sweet Sultans, Calliopsis, Zinnias and Cosmos, should not be overlooked.

The total number of vegetable varieties offered in Canada runs into the hundreds, but seedsmen and commercial market gardeners agree on the following list for general use: Beans—Fencil, Pod Black Wax, Round Pod Kidney Wax, Stringless Green Pod, with Kentucky Wonder and Kentucky Green Pod as pole sorts; Beets—Early Wonder and Flat Egyptian for early use and Edmonds Blood Turnip and Detroit Dark Red for later; Cabbage—Golden Acre as the best headed and early foliaged; by Copenhagen Market and Enkhulzen Glory for mid-season and Danish Ballhead for winter storage; Corn, for earliest use Golden Gem and Golden Sunshine among the yellows, and Early Market and Golden Bantam in whites, while Golden Bantam is the standard for general use among the yellows and Stowell's Evergreen among the whites; Celery—Paris Golden early giant strain, for early use. Wonderful for the later crop and the original Paris Golden for winter storage; Cucumbers—Improved White Spine and Javis Perfect; Lettuce—Grand Rapids is one of the best leaf sorts while New York or Wonderful, Iceberg and Non-Pareil are the best of the head type; Mushrooms—Orange, Golden Champlain and Bender's Surprise; Onions—Yellow Globe Danvers, Red Weatherfield, Prize Taker, Yellow Globe and Prize Taker Red Globe, among the standard sorts, while for early green use plant Dutch sets; Peas—Laxton's Progress, Thomas Laxton and Laxtonian are the best of the sorts, where it is advisable though not necessary to provide some support, and Little Marvel, and American Wonder among the dwarfs; Parsnips—Hollow Crown; Radishes—Scarlet Turnip White Tip, Saxa, and French Breakfast and Scarlet Globe, for early use and Iceberg, a big white summer type; Spinach—Long Standing Juliana, which does not go to seed readily, and the Savoy leafed Bloomsdale; Swiss Chard—Lucullus, the leafy part of this vegetable is used like spinach all summer and the stems as asparagus; Tomatoes—Earliana, Bonny Best and Livingstone's Globe are standard sorts, and Grand Rapids and Sunrise for forcing or staking.

Federal-Provincial Premium Policy Of Assistance To Horse Breeding

The Hon. W. C. Buckle, minister of agriculture for Saskatchewan, has made an announcement that is of great interest to the horse breeders of Saskatchewan. He states that the Federal-Provincial Premium Policy of Assistance to Horse Breeding will be put into effect in Saskatchewan this year on a modified scale.

This provides for the payment of a premium to choice, sound, outstanding stallions that are approved by the federal-provincial board for this season. The premium will be calculated on mares proving to be in foal to these stallions at the rate of $4.00 for each, to a maximum of fifty, that is not over $200 will be paid for the services of any one stallion. This policy is designed to benefit horse breeders, but the premium is payable to the stallion owner to allow him to reduce his service fees in order to enable farmers to make use of the service of a premium stallion at a moderate cost and thus raise a superior type of draft horse. The payment of premiums is shared equally between the Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, and the Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture, Regina.

The only stallions that are eligible for this premium are pure bred, registered stallions that are free from unsoundness, of outstanding type, conformation and quality, with true, straight action, possessing plenty of size, and three-year-olds in ordinary breeding condition, must weigh 1650 pounds or over, four-year-olds must weigh 1750 pounds or over, and mature horses must weigh 1850 pounds or over.

No stallion will be considered for the premiums unless he is enrolled and licensed for 1934 under the Provincial Horse Breeders' Act.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

APRIL 15

JESUS TEACHES FORGIVENESS

Golden Text: "Forgive us our debts, as we also have forgiven our debtors." Matthew 6:12.
Lesson: Matthew 18:15-35.
Devotional Reading: 1 Corinthians 13:1-8.

Explanation and Comments

How To Treat Offenders, verses 15-18. Jesus advised his disciples first to tell the offender of his fault, then to rebuke him in the presence of two or three others, and then, if he still gave no heed to their words, to tell his offense to the church. "When two or three are gathered in my name," he added, "there am I in the midst of them."

Unlimited Forgiveness, verses 21-22. Peter's question, "Lord how oft shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him?" followed naturally. "Until seven times," Peter suggested. Peter heard glowing with complacency, for he was not ready to go much farther in forgiveness than was the ordinary man? Did not the Talmud say: "When a man sins against another that other forgives him once, he forgives him a second time, he forgives him a third time, but the fourth time he does not forgive him?"

"No," answered Jesus, "I tell you not until seven times, but times without number until seventy times seven." "Seven was with the Jews the number of perfection. When time has run through seven days, it begins again; the circle is complete. So no expression could more forcibly convey the impression of endless, ever-renewed, eternal iteration than 'seventy times seven' (Markus Dofs). Magnanimity is not calculating; there is no place for arithmetic in the grace of forgiveness, or, as Dr. Jowett poetically says, 'Forgiveness to a number where the scaling power of aliphatic retines with wearied wing.'"

"O man! forgive thy mortal foe, Nor ever strike him blow for blow; For all the souls on earth that live, To be forgiven must forgive. Forgive him seventy times and seven; For all the blessed souls in heaven Are both forgivers and forgiven."—Tennyson.

Peter himself was an illustration of the grace of unwearying forgiveness. He sinned and sinned and sinned again. Dr. J. D. Jones fancied Peter after Christ's death saying to himself, "O to grace, how great a relief, that I'm constrained to be, and again and again taking himself as a text and preaching a sermon of comfort and hope to downcast and despairing souls."

Little Journeys In Science

OCEAN DEPTHS

(By Gordon H. Guest, M.A.)

Much has been written about the conquering of Mount Everest and other great mountain peaks but few people have interested themselves in the other extreme in nature, the deepest depths of the ocean. Mount Everest in the Himalayas is some 29,000 feet high, but in the Swire Deep, off the island of Mindanao—in the Philippines, the sea is 32,083 feet in depth. The average depth of the ocean is considered to be about 12,660 feet, or nearly two and a fourth miles.

Little sunlight goes down farther than 1500 feet, and below that level there is utter darkness, and the water is so cold that were it fresh, and at the surface, it would freeze. No plant life exists here, but there are many fish, who depend for their food solely on particles that come down from the surface of the sea. These fish live where the pressure of the water is two tons to the square inch. Because their tissues are so porous that they absorb sufficient water to balance the pressure on the outside, these fish are quite at home with that tremendous force pounding on them from all sides.

Fish living in these ocean depths have one peril that confronts no other living creature, the danger of falling upwards. If these fish rise too far above the bottom of the sea, their bodies expand, and they are forced towards the surface where the bladders burst or the fish "explodes".

Even the most severe storms do not disturb the water to a depth of more than 300 feet, so the depths are always still, dark and cold. Strange fish cruise around in the depths and occasionally there comes to rest a dead whale, some other saturated object from the higher levels.

OCCASIONAL WIFE

BY
EDNA ROBE WEBSTER

Author of "Joretta," "Lipstick Girl" Etc.

SYNOPSIS

Camilla Hoyt and Peter Anson, young and in love, marry secretly, deciding to live their own lives apart, until Peter is able to provide for her. Peter is a young, struggling sculptor trying to win a competition for a scholarship abroad and Camilla is the adopted daughter of a wealthy family. She is not to inherit money when she comes of age and so is studying commercial art in the hope of landing an agency job. Others in the story are Avis Werth, another wealthy girl who is trying to win Peter, Sylvia Todd, Peter's model, and Gus Matson, his former roommate with whom he has quarreled. At a party at an exclusive club Peter entertains Camilla's guests with impersonations. When the rest of the members of the party go to a cabaret to continue the night, Peter and Camilla slip off to the beach by themselves and fall asleep on the sand. When they awake it is early morning and Anson and another boy are standing near them. This makes it necessary for Camilla to announce before the party that she and Peter are married. Bowman and Werth, an advertising agency, where Camilla has submitted some of her work, and for her and tell her they have a new account which requires unusual treatment of juvenile models. The critics were enthusiastic about her work, and Mr. Weeks offers her a salary of $50.00 a week to start and a prospect of having it doubled. She tells Peter of her good fortune in securing employment. Camilla is also informed that Camilla has obtained work and is going to leave the Hoyt house and that Avis Werth rents a studio on the same floor as Peter, and invites him to have lunch there. He accepts reluctantly, but is favorably impressed with her visit. Camilla urges Peter to accept some of her earnings to help him along, but Peter refuses and they quarrel.

(Now Go On With The Story)

CHAPTER XXXVIII.

She remained with him for another hour, striving to find the magic word or gesture that would break this spell of their disenchantment, but he remained stoic and impersonal. There was no ecstatic hour of murmured endearments and close embraces, while they discussed their work and hopes and plans. There was no deeply poignant meeting of blue and brown eyes, eloquent with wordless meanings.

She might have been any girl who had stopped in and interrupted his work, any girl whom he would have entertained with desultory words and a not too gracious manner—except for the first ten minutes when he had been followed by their ugly quarrel. Their farewell was like an act in a play which they had rehearsed too many times to find exciting any more, and Camilla walked out into the mellow autumn sunshine, seeing nothing, oblivious of sound and feeling paralyzed. She avoided traffic by instinct and boarded the right car from habit. Nothing mattered.

Her world had turned upside down. She and Peter had said unkind words to each other, their eyes had avoided each other's ten minutes when they had met with sympathy. Somehow they had lost that precious, happy intimacy which had made any hope possible and every denial a promise. Her eyes stared out the window at the passing landscape. Buildings, houses, trees, lamp posts were blurred like a photograph that had been badly out of focus. No object was distinguishable.

When Camilla had gone, Peter sank into a chair and dropped his head into his hands. In his gesture was all the weariness and despair of his whole past. Never had he felt so futile and ambition such a mockery. He might have known it would be like that, he told himself bitterly. Camilla had made practical use of her talent, and within a few weeks was offering to take care of him. He was a dreamer who couldn't even take care of himself.

He believed it was his pride that was hurt because he couldn't support the woman he loved, but it was just common human jealousy which gnawed in Peter's mind. Only the usual poison of love and pride could so distort both love and pride. But the most malignant factor in jealousy is that it cannot be admitted, and therefore is difficult to cure.

The more Peter brooded over his situation, the more his anger grew, and his wrath settled upon Camilla because she was the object of his jealousy and of his oversteering desire to succeed at the same time.

A light knocking at the door startled him violently, so deeply was he sunk into the absorbing quicksand of despair. He aroused himself with an effort and thought, "Camilla has come back to try to make it right. Well, she can't. I'm sick of it all."

The knocking was repeated, more imperative. He called crossly, "Come in."

The door opened and his hostile eyes met the pleasant greeting in Avis'.

"Hello, everyone," she called cheerfully, then stopped with an inquiring glance around the room. "Oh, I thought Camilla was here. I ran in to ask you both to have a little supper with me. I'm alone — and lonely."

"Didn't I hear her come in early this afternoon?"

"Yes, she was here," Peter replied tonelessly, and added, "but she had to leave early."

"Well, it's a good thing I came over in time to pull you out of your gloom. Another half hour and you would pass out." Her banter concealed her own suspicions of the situation and her good humor encouraged Peter. "All the more reason, then why you should have supper with me, anyway. That's just one of the disadvantages of having a genius for a wife. Of course, she can't afford to spend all her time chirping you up."

"Oh, I'm all right," he insisted, smothering back the bright, disordered curia with a big, shapely hand. "Tired, I guess."

"Of course, you are. You've worked all day, haven't you? Come along."

He obeyed meekly. Following Avis across the hall had got to be something of a habit. Rather a pleasant habit, too.

Avis was a clever actress. To prove that she had anticipated two guests for supper, she removed one of the plates from the table that was laid for three. She also talked easily and sprangily while she served Peter unobtrusively. Here was a "riff within the rift" of Peter's marriage, and she drove her wedge in cautiously. She restored his tranquility, made him comfortable and entertained him quietly. Just what he needed.

When they left the table, Avis suggested without insistence, "You surely don't need to work tonight. You should rest. Sit down and be comfy for awhile. Is your price all most finished?" She turned the volume low on the radio, and a sentimental voice crooned, "You take me to Paradise." Then she lighted a cigarette and held it to his lips. He took it with an amused laugh. She fired another for herself and dropped down lightly on the opposite end of the divan, arranging the pillows for her comfort.

Was strange how Avis, served and pampered and indulged, found her greatest pleasure in serving and humoring this young giant who looked as if he had been made to struggle with physical force instead of molding bits of clay. The ignorance of love—that makes servants of parasites and weaklings of slaves. He blew smoke into space, with contentment. "Yes, I'll finish this week. I had planned to have it bronzed before sending it to the exhibit," pensively.

"Of course, you should. Why not?" "That costs money," he replied, after a moment's hesitation, and met her glance defiantly. "So, I'll enter it as it is."

"Don't be absurd," she reproved him gently. "What a little saving like that, if it hurts your chance to win?"

"I can't save what I don't have," he enigmatically.

"Well, wouldn't it pay you to borrow money on a chance like this? Besides, supposing that you don't win the prize, you can put it into marble and sell it as you suggested before."

He made a gesture of hopelessness. "Who is going to loan money to a fellow who has made a clay figure on the chance that it will win him a prize or that he might copy it in marble and perhaps find a buyer for it? That's all the collateral I have to offer. Did you ever hear a financier who would take such a long chance as that?"

"A better guarantee would be your talent and ambition," she suggested.

He laughed ironically. "Who would believe that I had anything so valuable as that?"

"I know you have," Her eyes held his gaze, significant.

"Oh—that!" he dismissed the implication of her words, instantly. And added presently, "Funny how the women insist upon taking care of me. What's the matter with me, anyway?"

"Women?" Avis asked vaguely.

"Oh, Camilla and I just had a row about this that afternoon," he confessed bluntly. "She wanted me to let her help with her money. Of course, she isn't making a fortune, but I guess she could spare a little. She thinks I should accept it, but what kind of a fellow wants his wife to keep him, even if he is trying to do something worthwhile? That wasn't in our agreement in the first place."

"I'm excited, but managed to keep her from making off with me and as impersonal as if she were answering Camilla herself when she said, 'I think you are quite right about that. Peter. So many fellows are letting down on their pride these days, and she thinks I should do it all. Of course you don't want to do that. I admire a man with some sand.'"

"Well, I have as much right to be independent as she has — and more. She wouldn't let me help her if she needed it, as things are with me now. Then why should I accept her money?"

"I think you are both right, under the circumstances. I see her point exactly—" Avis was shrewd, "—but I also see yours."

"I'm glad somebody does," he shrugged. "Well—that's that! What I don't like better do is to get a good honest job and to work at something that turns to gold at the magic touch of toil."

"At what?"

"That's it—what. And where? Jobs being the least plentiful thing in the world, just now, that complicates the problem even better."

"Then don't be silly, Peter. Let me tell you something. Will you listen?"

"With both ears," he grinned.

"I'm beginning to believe the supposition is true that genuine artists haven't a grain of business sense—you being the first and best example I know."

"Is that all you have to tell me? I know that already," disdainfully.

"Well, that's a good start. You admit the truth. Then we're here! Did you ever realize that no business success is ever founded on hope and ambition and ability, alone? Every success has to have a financial foundation. Yet of all the stupid people in the world, artists imagine that they are not self-made unless they starve and freeze and live absolutely independent of all the rest of the world. Is that sense?" she demanded.

"Put into words, it doesn't sound practical," Peter admitted.

"What else can they do? You think I should take my wife's money, then?"

"Absolutely not. No more than a man with a lot of pride would take his wife's money to go into any business. But he would borrow money and sell stock for a foundation, and then set of work to make good. Your talent and your future are just as good risks as any business, and if you were as practical as you are artistic, you would borrow money to secure your peace of mind and a

Does Not Harm the Heart

Little Helps For This Week

"We have waited for the Lord and He will save us; this is the Lord; we have waited for Him and we will be glad in His salvation." Isaiah 25:9.

Blest are the humble souls that wait. With quiet submission to His will. Harmonious all their passions move. And in the midst of storms are still.

Do not be discouraged at your faults, bear with yourself in correcting them as you would with your neighbor. Lay aside this ardor of your mind which exhausts your body and leads you to commit errors. Accustom yourself gradually to carry prayer into all your daily occupations. Speak, move, work in peace, as if you were in prayer, as indeed you ought to be. Do everything without excitement, by the spirit of grace. As soon as you perceive your natural impetuosity gliding in, retire quietly within where there is the kingdom of God. Listen rather to the leadings of grace, then do and say nothing but what the Holy Spirit will put into your heart. You will find that you will become more tranquil, that your words will be fewer and more effectual, and that with less effort you will accomplish more good.—Fenelon.

A reviewer of an Englishwoman's garden book says: "Snow apparently never interferes with the English gardener's winter planning. And then, such strange things catch the English gardener's fancy. Would it, for instance, make you want catnip in your garden if you were told that the Princess Margaret, daughter of the Duke of Connaught, took a plant of catmint with her when she became the crown princess of Sweden and that since then every loyal Swede tills tends a bed of catnip, like as not a lineal descendant of the royal original?"

War Office Experts Taking Keen Interest in Tests

A new streamlined bullet was tested on the Blisley ranges recently, in which war office experts are taking the keenest interest. Skilled riflemen showed that they could place shots on the target within two feet of each other at 1,000 yards and the wind had 25 per cent. less effect on the bullets than on the old-style bullets. The new bullet has a range of more than 5,000 yards as against the 3,000 yard range of the old bullet. It is made of a secret alloy.

Cultivate a personal interest in the store ads—for that will be merely an important way of safeguarding your purse from the little leaks that occur through unwise buying.

Boys riding bicycles to the danger of themselves and pedestrians, or risking their lives in collisions with automobiles, should be kindly admonished by parents or those in authority. Under modern conditions of traffic, roads are very unsafe for children to play on, and the best way to avoid trouble is to keep off the road, for prevention is always better than cure.

The governor general and his entourage passed through on Train 12 Wednesday. Three coaches accommodated the party. They were having luncheon as they arrived here and gazed on the smoke of the coke ovens during the short time the train stopped. Not even a flag was flying to betoken the passing by of the royal representative. At Blairmore the Canadian legion hoisted their flag adjacent to the depot.

The lawns here show a beautiful green now that spring is with us and after the months of winter this new grass with its deep rich colour gives a pleasure that makes these lawns a joy indeed. There is nothing, excepting trees possibly, that adds more to the beauty and enjoyment of home surroundings than a well kept lawn. Moreover making a lawn is simple enough, even though certain factors need to be observed and constant care is needed to keep it in good condition. What is most frequently not recognized probably is that a lawn needs fertilizing to keep a healthy green and growing vigorously. The vital importance of moisture is readily appreciated but not so the need of fertilizing. Buy Fertilizer at J. M. Allan's Associated Grocers.
